

INSTRUCTIONReligious Related Activities or Practices

The board recognizes that views and opinions regarding the relationship of the school and religion are diverse. While community opinions are important in shaping policy, the board must give primary credence to the United States and Washington State Constitutions and the decisions made by the respective courts when establishing guidelines for making decisions regarding religious-related activities and practices. The board further accepts the declaration of the State Board of Education that "all students...possess the constitutional right to the free exercise of religion and to have their schools free from sectarian control or influence."

Legal Reference: U.S. Constitution

Washington State Constitution

First Amendment
Fourteenth Amendment
Article 9, Sec 4 and Article
26

Adopted: April 28, 1993